Restrictions On China Trade Will Be Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. restrictions on trade with Red China will be eased Monday for the second time in six months, but direct trade with the Communist nation will remain forbidden.

The State Department said Friday the new regulations are intended to improve the competitive position of American business concerns overseas and to make it easier for tourists, collectors and museums to import Chinese works of art.

One change in regulations will permit American-owned subsidiaries of U.S. firms in other nations to engage in nonstrategic trade with mainland China on the same basis as their foreign competitors.

Present restrictions also will be eliminated on U.S. business participation in third-country trade in Chinese Communist goods. American firms will be able to buy and ship to third countries commodities presumed to be of Chinese origin that third-country firms now are able to send to the United States under procedures that require certificates of origin.

A third change removes the $100 ceiling on the purchase of Chinese Communist goods by Americans for non-commercial use. This would allow the importing of items which are not for resale, such as works of art.

The United States last July relaxed trade regulations by permitting purchases by U.S. tourists of Chinese Communist goods up to $100. Categories of Americans allowed to visit mainland China also were broadened at that time.

Final Passage Expected On Tax Bill Before 1970

Preferences Ruled Out In New Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — A huge tax bill cracking down on many preferences but also passing out extensive tax cuts and social security benefits is set for final passage in Congress before Christmas.

It would boost the personal income tax exemption from the current $600 to $750 over the next three years, raise Social Security benefits to some 25 million Americans by 15 per cent across the board and ease tax rates for single persons.

Nixon Veto Hinted

President Nixon, committed to a surplus budget to fight inflation, said previously he would veto a too-generous tax measure. His remarks apparently were aimed at the bill as passed by the Senate which voted on $800 personal exemption.

After a Senate-House conference committee completed work on the measure Friday, it came much closer in its revenue effect to an earlier House version Nixon indicated he would accept. Moreover, it provides a surplus of revenue in the two years the President is most concerned about—$6.47 billion in 1970 and $288 million in 1971—although the projections show a net loss later.

Tax Exemption Sought

The administration fought the increase in the personal tax exemption to the end. This provision would raise the exemption for taxpayers and dependents to $650 as of next July 1, to $700 in 1972 and to $750 in 1973.

This would mean a family of four would increase its exempt income by $600 in 1973. This would mean a savings of $132 in taxes for the family of four in the 22 per cent marginal bracket.

The Social Security increase is 5 per cent higher than the administration proposed, but the conference committee eliminated $2.2 billion in additional features the Senate had voted.

Allowances Cut

Another costly Senate item sliced out of the bill was a provision to allow tax credits for college expenses.

Revenue-producing features of the measure would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent, increase taxes on large capital gains, set a minimum tax on preference income of high-bracket taxpayers, and trim a variety of other advantages, including hobby farming and big charitable gifts of value-appreciated property.

It also would repeal the 7 per cent investment credit for business and extend the surtax at 5 per cent for six months—two actions Nixon recommended.

The bill also provides a special low income allowance taking some 5 million families off the tax rolls and reducing taxes for many others.

Preferences Noted

Taxpayers who claim a standard deduction rather than itemizing deductions also benefit. The current 10 per cent deduction with a $1,000 limit would be raised to 13 per cent with a $1,400 ceiling in 1970. It would go up to 14 per cent with a $1,500 limit in 1971 and the following year the percentage would remain the same but the ceiling would be raised to $2,000.

The conferees threw out of the bill all House provisions seeking to place some tax on the income from state and local bonds. Such income now is tax-exempt and recipients do not even have to include it on returns.

Thus, although one of the purposes of the bill is to try to make certain every American with sufficient income pays some tax, a person of great wealth can escape any levy if he puts his money in state and local bonds.

Indict 35 More For Democratic Meet Rampage

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News says the White House has agreed to relieve Ambassador to South Vietnam Ellsworth Bunker of his post.

However, State Department and White House spokesmen in Washington said they could not confirm the CBS report.

The CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite quoted White House sources Friday as saying President Nixon has agreed to let Bunker go as soon after the New Year as possible.

The report said the White House has discouraged speculation that Bunker might go to the Paris Peace Talks as a replacement for former chief negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Red Offensive Seen Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top White House official says a continuation of recent Communist infiltration into South Vietnam during the next seven weeks would be considered disturbing and could signal an early-1970 offensive.

An authority in the foreign policy area, the official was made available to about 50 newsmen for an 85-minute briefing Thursday. Under the rules, his remarks could not be reported until today. All his statements were made in response to questions.

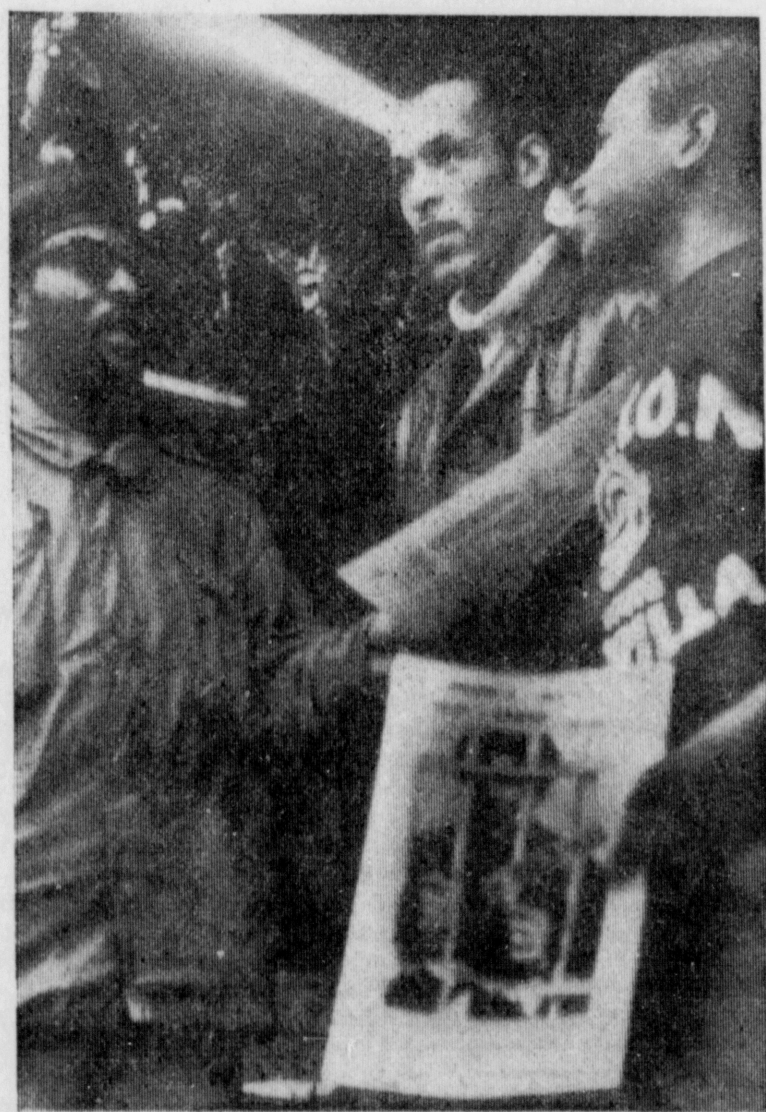

The source said that if North Vietnam continues infiltration during the next seven weeks at the average rate of the last seven, the Nixon administration will conclude it is augmenting its forces in the South rather than replacing losses. He said that could be the prelude to an offensive.

If an offensive develops, however, he said it could not reach the 1968 Tet level which saw the Communists invade Saigon and occupy, if temporarily, such provincial capitals as Hue. He said the enemy could do no more now than cause an increase in U.S. casualties through stepped-up shelling and a series of coordinated attacks.

Some reverses are inevitable as the war continues, he said. As other administration officials have done, the White House aide credited Nixon with

$1.5 Billion Cut From Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — About $1.5 billion was cut from a bill threatened with presidential veto as Congress voted and debated its way into weekend session and final action on tax reform and most appropriations.

Presidential veto warnings still stood for the massive tax package and the Health, Education and Welfare Department appropriation which was cut $1.5 billion to $20 billion.

However, Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the tax package as presented Friday for final action would be difficult for President Nixon to veto.

Democratic senators indicated after a caucus they may work toward putting off a vote on the HEW measure until after the holiday recess. This would prevent a pocket veto by the President.

Every taxpayer would benefit by an increase in the personal exemption, starting in mid-1970. The exemption progresses from $600 to $750 by 1973. A 15 per cent hike in Social Security benefits is there for one of every eight residents of the United States.

The oil depletion allowance, a tax reform symbol, would be reduced from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent. Tax free municipal bonds were left that way.

Others facing tax increases include those with considerable capital gains income, hobby farmers, real estate operators using speeded up depreciation, and individuals who profit by charitable donations of such value-appreciated property as paintings.

To trim the measure $1.5 billion, $1.1 billion was taken away from advance public school funding for 1971. Nixon favors this. The balance of the cut came at the expense of antipoverty and various health and education programs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The resignation of a key man in the Nixon administration's "black capitalism" program has brought to the surface once again the bubbling turmoil in the Office of Minority Business Enterprise.

Arthur L. Ortiz, director of the Commerce Department agency's campaign to persuade franchising companies to make more room for members of minority groups, submitted his resignation Thursday. It was not disclosed until the OMBE was questioned Friday.

Ortiz will return next month to New Mexico, which he left six months ago, to become state personnel director.

Although OMBE says the parting was cordial, sources within the agency said Ortiz was frustrated by what he thought were administrative shortcomings and was receptive to another job offer before New Mexican officials approached him.

His resignation was submitted on the same day Commerce announced that Thomas F. Roesser, who was fired almost two months ago as OMBE director, quit his job as special assistant to Secretary Maurice H. Stans for freeing Harris; prison is

GI Prisoners Air Greetings Over Red Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I'm in good health and . . . full of hope. Hope you'll have a joyous-filled holiday season . . ."

The message, from an American prisoner of war in North Vietnam to his family, was broadcast by Radio Hanoi Friday. It was monitored in Hong Kong and relayed to the United States.

At least four times within the past eight days Radio Hanoi has broadcast such messages.

American radio networks have broadcast the messages over their facilities and sent them by closed circuit to stations in the fliers' hometowns.

The message above was attributed to Air Force Capt. Joe David Luna and a tape was played by CBS News for his wife, Mrs. Pearl Luna of Roy, Utah. The audio quality was poor and Mrs. Luna said she was unable to be sure the voice was that of her husband.

Hanoi Radio said other messages came from Lt. Cmdr. Hugh Allen Stafford of Cambridge, Md., Capt. Norman McDaniel of Greensboro, N. C.; Capt. James Quincy Collins Jr., of Atherton Calif.

The Christmas greetings run from 30 to 45 seconds.

CBS Radio has broadcast the messages, usually with comment from the families, over its network. NBC Radio broadcast three of the greetings on its network and is sending them by closed circuit to hometown stations.

ABC Radio is sending the messages to the hometown stations, and in addition is mailing tapes of the broadcasts to the families. The Pentagon also requested copies of the tapes.

Mrs. Jean McDaniel of Greensboro sobbed in relief when CBS News called her with the message from her husband.

"This is the best Christmas present I could give my children because they are always asking me where he is and when he'll be coming home," she said. "At least, now they know that someday he might be coming home."

Looking Over Shoulder Ends For Ex-Prisoner

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — supposed to rehabilitate men. But freedom has already accomplished that.

Harris' crimes were never major. Sketchy prison records from 1931 suggest that Harris, from rural Southern Utah, got in trouble for checks covering only small amounts. There are indications that his communications with the warden told of illness and depression—time poverty.

And his punishment was not light. "After all," said Wright, "this man spent one month in prison—and 38 years looking over his shoulder."

Uganda Leader Recovering From Gunshot Wounds KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Uganda's President Milton Obote is recovering from gunshot wounds that are not serious, a government spokesman said today.

The 44-year-old president was shot in the head Friday night at the close of the annual convention of his ruling Uganda People's Congress.

Sources said one bullet entered one cheek and passed out the other. There was no official confirmation. Obote was reported to be conscious when he was rushed to Mulago Hospital.

The government spokesman said an armed man was arrested in connection with the assassination attempt, but his identity was not revealed.

The sales figures for Delta County gained over $8 million from the $43,218,000 volume listed for the county in 1963 by the Census of Business. Marquette County jumped from $57,898,000 in 1963 to the 1967 figure of over $79 million.

Statistics on Michigan retail trade were published in Michigan Kaleidoscope, a new bulletin released by the State

Chamber of Commerce, Lansing.

Delta County figures show that the number of retail establishments in the county dropped from 399 in 1963 to 390 in 1967. Escanaba remained stable, 218 in each year, while Gladstone fell from 74 in 1963 to 66 in 1967.

In Schoolcraft County, the number of establishments declined from 155 to 138 over the four-year period. Manistique, however, showed a slight increase, from 94 to 96.

The statistics cover businesses of the following types: Building materials, hardware, farm equipment dealers; general merchandise group stores; food stores; automotive dealers, gasoline service stations; apparel and accessory stores; furniture, home furnishings and equipment stores; eating and drinking places; drug stores and proprietary stores; miscellaneous retail stores, and nonstore retailers.

Total retail sales in Michigan in the four-year period rose about 30 per cent with the general merchandise group store category showing the biggest gain, about 55 per cent.

Closing Near For Lake Shipping:

C&NW Just Under 7-Million-Ton Goal

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Marine traffic has dwindled to a trickle on the upper Great Lakes as temperatures fall to near zero and ice begins to form on channels in harbor and bays.

Shipping is drawing to a close on Little Bay de Noc with the Chicago & North Western's hopes of setting a 7-million-ton iron ore record at its new terminal dashed by winter's arrival and mechanical problems.

"We are partially broken down out here and loading is going slowly," said Paul Schilling, North Western's assistant superintendent. "Our car dumper has been down for a couple of days, we are continuing loading, but it's slow."

There were three ore boats at the North Western dock today and what may be the last boat of the season, the Robert C. Stanley, is due in tomorrow.

"A Few More Boats"

"We are not going to reach 7 million tons," said Schilling with obvious disappointment. "It looks like about 6.9 million — only a few more boats and we would have made it, though."

The Stanley, one of the vessels of U.S. Steel Corp.'s big ore fleet, is 595 feet long and has a cargo capacity of 15,725 tons. Her skipper is Capt. Harold Beagle.

The North Western, in the last year of operation of the old timber dock, funneled 6,233,762 tons of ore through Escanaba in 1968. This was down from the previous C&NW dock record of 6.6 million tons in 1963.

The old dock was removed last winter and the new conveyor dock was constructed and put into operation, part of an ore terminal development costing $16 million plus.

Polaris Scheduled

Ore loading was delayed at the start of operations last spring because of mechanical difficulties, then things smoothed out and new loading records were set each month throughout the summer and fall. Now the North Western is way ahead of last year — but the hoped-for 7 million tons will not be attained.

Schilling today was uncertain whether the Stanley will be the last ore carrier of this season. There is the possibility that another boat or boats may come in Dec. 22 or 23.

Most fuel terminals on Little Bay de Noc have had their last tanker or coal boat this year, but the Cities Service terminal at Kipling may get the Polaris (or another tanker) with a cargo from East Chicago as late as about Dec. 28. The Mobil Chicago cleared from Kipling Friday, morning, moving out of the harbor behind the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Mesquite, after unloading at Cities Service.

Lighthouses Closing

The Mesquite has been busy lifting buoys and other navigation aids as shipping comes to a close. On Thursday the cutter removed the crew from Minneapolis Shoal light station — an isolated light on a reef 12 miles south of Escanaba in Green Bay — and brought the men to Escanaba.

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — Those tents on the administration building lawn have to go, says Chico State College President Robert E. Hill.

Hill didn't say what he would do if the handful of students, who are seeking a voice in granting faculty tenure, didn't take down their camp and move on.

Find Careers In Nursing

By REBECCA PUTNAM
LPN Student

The Practical Nursing program at Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba has graduated 168 students who have entered into a variety of nursing positions throughout the United States.

They are employed in physicians' and dentists' offices, nursing homes, veteran, psychiatric, and general hospitals and the Armed Services.

While the majority of these Licensed Practical Nurses are employed in the Mid - West, some have sought employment as far west as Oregon and California and as far south as Texas.

Many graduates go into a two-year associate degree nursing program, a three-year diploma hospital school of nursing or a four-year baccalaureate nursing program within a university to become Registered Nurses. Each level of nursing education is self-contained, complete, and satisfactory for its purpose.

Sixty Students

While there is a foundation of learning common to all kinds of nursing education, the various programs differ in scope of content. The licensed practical nurse always practices under the supervision of a registered nurse or a physician.

The Practical Nursing curriculum extends over a 48-week period and two classes, with a maximum of 30 students each, are continuously and concurrently in session. The classes beginning in September are tuition classes with Miss S. Miller RN and Mrs. G. Vanlerberghe RN as instructors. The Manpower Development Training and the Work Incentive programs finance many students in the session beginning in February.

Instructors for this class are Miss C. Rabitoy RN and Mrs. J. Good RN. Mrs. M. Harper, R.N.M.A. is the director of nursing and division chairman of applied health. Mrs. Harper came to Bay College this year from Marquette to fill the office vacated by Mrs. B. Goulais RN.

Founded In 1965

Mrs. Goulais was responsible for the initial formulation of the program which began in February, 1965 and her commitment to practical nursing has resulted in Bay's practical nursing program being one of the most respected in the state.

The first 18 weeks of class are spent in a pre-clinical period. During this time the students apply their basic nursing skills to the care of patients at St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba under the guidance of the instructors. In the classroom the students are given an adequate working knowledge of the structure and functions of the body, of the dosage and the administration of drugs and of the basic elements essential to nutritional, mental, and community health.

The clinical portion of the program concentrates on medical, surgical, pediatric, obstetrical, and rehabilitative nursing. Students work at St. Francis, doctors' offices, Pinecrest Medical Center in Powers, Camp Harstad and the Department of Public Health.

Personals

According to Mrs. Gidlund of Tinley, Ill., Eva Gidlund, of 704 S. 13th St., Escanaba, will become a great-grand-mother this spring. The Escanaba woman's two great-grandchildren are expecting babies next year.

White Prejudices Worry King's Dad

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — As he turns up, the father of slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says even the loss of his son was not too great a price to pay "for helping free his people," but he worries about continued white prejudices.

Interviewed Friday shortly before a testimonial dinner marking his 70th birthday, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. said great progress has been made by Negroes and still is being made.

Fears Prejudice

"But he said he fears that continued race prejudice and hate could result in mass killings by both races.

"America's too damn white, man, and it's ruining us," he said. "We can lose America."

He has ministered for 38 years at Ebenezer Baptist Church, site of the funeral of both his sons — Martin, shot to death in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, 1968, and the Rev. A.D. King, who drowned in a swimming pool 15 months later. He has one other child, a daughter.

Progress Hailed

Of the progress made, he said: "It's great. It's great. If I had to go back, I'd go the same way. And I have got a great deal of strength even in the loss of my sons. They're just not dead. To me, they live, but they're just away."

U.S. Participation In Conflict Illegal?

NEW YORK (AP) — Is United States participation in the Vietnam War unconstitutional? The question has been raised in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn by a man who has refused to pay his surtax of $190.84 on the grounds that it is earmarked for an unconstitutional war.

Walter G. Pietsch of Queens, a city hospital employee and former chairman of the Queens chapter of Americans for Democratic Action, said Friday the $190.84 "is insignificant, it's the principle I am fighting for."

His suit, filed Nov. 19, seeks an injunction declaring the war illegal and unconstitutional and barring collection of the 1968 surtax and other taxes that finance the war.

Judge George Rosling Friday ordered written arguments filed by Pietsch and the men he names as respondents—President Nixon, Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy and Charles A. Church, district director internal revenue. Rosling reserved decision after Asst. U.S. Atty. Louis Rosenthal moved for dismissal on technical grounds.

Also requested in the suit is amnesty for all protestors now in jail or abroad and a grand jury to seek indictments of former President Johnson and his secretary of state, Dean Rusk.

Appointment

DETROIT (AP) — The State Civil Rights Commission has appointed Edward Chastang Jr. as regional manager of the Detroit area. He is a former field representative and case supervisor. Russel Johnson of Grand Rapids was named regional manager of the Grand Rapids District. Donald Holtrop of Lansing was named regional manager for the Lansing area.

On With The Job

The Delta County Board of Supervisors, which now has before it an air pollution control ordinance prepared and proposed by the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air, voted earlier this month to spend up to $2,000 of tax dollars for professional legal and technical assistance in developing its own air pollution control ordinance.

Vote by the board was unanimous and it must be the first time — outside of asking the opinion of the county prosecuting attorney or some other county department head — that a Delta County board has ventured from its own resources and approved spending of money in considering some action. With the advance in technology, however, the move is not without precedent at other governmental levels and to proceed blindly would have been foolhardy.

It is an interesting move, nevertheless, and one which leaves open several possible conclusions:

● That the Board of Supervisors — judging from its willingness to spend $2,000 to draft its own proposals — feels the Save Our Air ordinance which has been opposed by the Escanaba Paper Co. and The Mead Corp. is too strong and could have a negative impact on industry in the area;

● That the Board of Supervisors does not in any form intend to pass the Save Our Air committee proposals (If the Board feels the ordinance now before it is unacceptable, it is likely that the Save Our Air committee would similarly feel that changes to it also would be unacceptable);

● That the Board of Supervisors does feel, however, whether because of political pressures generated by the Save Our Air effort or out of personal conviction based on data and argument introduced so far, that some type of anti-air pollution ordinance must be adopted and that it would be political suicide not to do so.

It will be interesting to watch what proposals come from Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp, who was charged with the responsibility of developing the county's own ordinance.

An ordinance to be beneficial to residents of the county must go beyond the state air pollution standards already in effect. To do otherwise would be a waste of county money, not only in the appropriation for "outside" legal and technical assistance but in the time devoted to another ordinance by the prosecuting attorney and members of the county board.

It is in this area where further problems could develop. The county-prepared ordinance also could come out too strong for local industry, placing the Board of Supervisors in an awkward position if the intent in the first place is in developing an ordinance which industry "can live with." If it isn't strong enough, the Save Our Air Committee could likewise be placed in the difficult position of feeling it had to oppose the very thing it organized to support. The decision would have to be made, for example, on whether or not some gain is better than none at all.

Whatever is done, however, should be done with the greatest speed possible.

Escanaba Paper Co. and Mead officials, whose plans to build a kraft process pulp mill touched off the Save Our Air Committee effort, deserve to know as soon as possible exactly what is expected of the company. The paper mill knows what state standards it must meet, but county proposals — unless paper company lawyers are involved in their preparation — are an unknown variable.

On the other hand, the public deserves consideration, also. In the case of the paper mill, once the new pulp mill is constructed and operating, it would be a difficult proposition to shut it down, regardless of the odor. The community has a specific example in the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. ore terminal in Escanaba. Despite the dust problem, the State Air Pollution Control Commission has no intent to close the operation and the railroad won't do it voluntarily. W. H. Huffman of Chicago, assistant vice president and chief engineer, told the state commission in Lansing last month that closing the facility until dust control equipment could be installed would cost the railroad $1.5 million in tariffs alone, plus result in laying off about 50 men. So the community must wait.

On the pulp mill project, although the company has made repeated assurances that odor will not be a problem and hopefully this will be the case, if no local ordinance is approved before construction starts the county would be left without a leg to stand on should the mill emit obnoxious odors.

The Save Our Air committee ordinance was submitted to the board for consideration Sept. 15. To date, except for a public hearing, no action has been taken on it. And now the board has decided it wants to proceed on its own.

This type of foot-dragging may solve the problem of taking a position for members of the board, but it isn't doing a bit of good for the community. The issue is at hand. Let's get on with it.

Peninsula Potpourri

Superintendent R. J. Hodges, reviewing a summary of information received on all secondary schools in the Upper Peninsula, notified the Calumet Board of Education that the school tax rate in Calumet is the lowest of all 59 secondary school districts in the U. P. Calumet has a levy of 12.15 mills.

The doctor procurement committee for West Iron County has begun to see some response to its efforts to bring new doctors into that area. As the result of a recent house-to-house canvass, more than $6,000 has been acquired for use as expense in advertising and arranging for visits by doctors to the Iron River-Stambaugh area.

Old Idea Finds Life In Housing Program

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

It was more than ten years ago that Jane Jacobs, the best of our "urbanologists," spoke out against substituting huge high-rise housing developments for the old-fashioned city neighborhoods that had grown organically.

Housing developments had a way of excluding the poor. But where they were for the poor, they excluded everything that makes a neighborhood human and able to police itself. Big dwelling barracks surrounded by open spaces were unsafe at night; nobody is around in the dark hours at street level to give aid or sound an alarm.

But in the old-type neighborhood, where houses and stores intermingle, the movement of many people at all hours discourages the mugger, the petty thief and the killer.

Miss Jacobs, an architectural critic and realistic sociologist who joined the "urbanologists" with her book, "The Death and Life of Great American Cities," has tried to save such old New York City neighborhoods as Chelsea and the West Village. She has had indifferent success in trying to get through to Mayor Lindsay. But a Connecticut suburban Congressman, Lowell Weicker Jr. of Greenwich, is about to put Miss Jacobs in business.

His "one-for-one" amendment to the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1969 has cleared the Senate and House Conference. The Weicker amendment will, if no accident befalls it, compel city planners to replace any dwelling unit scheduled for demolition under urban renewal with a new unit in the same rental range.

"From now on," says Weicker, "urban renewal will work for, not against, people. Before the Federal bulldozer destroys and causes more generations of urban nomads, the planner must devote his primary energies to the task of keeping whole the old—the old not in public facilities or in slums, but in an era of esthetics and convenience, the old in terms of the family unit and neighborhood."

Under the Weicker amendment, renovation of existing dwellings can be substituted for the present mode of total demolition which destroys the historical character of areas which, for all their dilapidation, still have 19th century charm.

In his own state of Connecticut, Weicker noticed that all of the major cities—Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport—had lost population between the censuses of 1950 and 1960. They will presumably show more losses when the 1970 census is completed. Yet in all of these cities there is, despite the loss of population, a crying need for new low-rental housing.

Something is wrong, says Weicker, when people simply disappear because of stupid federal demolition programs. The Congressmen's feelings about the immorality of the "Federal bulldozer" were confirmed by his observation of what had happened in the southeast part of Washington, D. C., where 40,000 poor families have been displaced by "urban renewal" without providing any new places for them to live.

Nobody knows precisely where the 40,000 families have gone, but presumably, they have moved into other ghettos, making them doubly crowded.

How is it that a freshman Congressman such as Weicker could break through the "committee system" to put his name on a major amendment to an important piece of legislation? He did it by addressing a letter to all his colleagues in the House, and by selling his argument to a cross-section of opinion that included the conservative Congressman Vinegar Bend Mizell (the ex-ball player) of North Carolina and the liberal Shirley Chisholm of New York City. A personal visit to Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney helped.

Congressman Weicker got a chance to tell President Nixon about his "one-for-one" amendment during a visit to the White House. Though Pat Moynihan, the President's resident White House urbanologist, tends to frown on Congressional interference with administrative flexibility in such matters as city renovation, the Administration has seen no reason to oppose the Weicker amendment.

And when Congressman William Widnall, the ranking minority member of the House Banking and Currency Committee, made an axis with Weicker, and Republican House leader Jerry Ford and the liberal leader of the "Wednesday Club," Sid Yates of Illinois, joined the procession, the amendment was "in."

"We cannot continue to tear down housing and replace it only with shopping centers, office centers or industrial parks," says Weicker. "My amendment sets the stage for rebuilding our cities with decent homes."

City Officials Ponder Ban On Night Prep Tilts

By HUBERT MIZELL

Mothers of yesteryear sent their teeny-boppers to Friday night high school sports events bearing cowbells, school pennants and megaphones.

Good clean fun. Tomorrow's paraphernalia may be more self-defensive—brass knuckles, switchblades and bulletproof vests.

In some hot spots, officials are mulling thoughts of ruling out prep sports after dark. In others—like Chicago—it has long been a way of life.

Familiar Tag "Racial" is a familiar tag for violence—rock throwing to pistol firing—but some claim black-vs.-white controversies simply draw attention to the trouble that has existed since the era of the flying wedge.

Joe Brodsky, burly former University of Florida fullback, was here at Miami's Jackson High School when it was all-white. That was 15 years ago. Now coach of the Generals' mostly-black football squad, Brodsky claims, "People used to throw rocks at the our buses and beat people with chains. Nobody got excited about it then."

Problems Everywhere But, there have been major problems sprinkled throughout the country. Parents have stormed school board meetings, written newspapers and complained to principals about off-field antics that can't be even broadly classified as hijinks.

Problems at football events have hit headlines from burghs in the hinterlands to teeming cities. Basketball doesn't escape the haunting difficulties of nighttime athletics, although most coaches and school leaders feel holding events indoors helps with policing... sometimes. A white boy was shot in the stomach during a racial disturbance at Live Oak, Fla., to get the current cage season off on a sour note. The tiny North Florida city's game with Ridgeland, S.C., High was interrupted by a fight in the stands that was climaxed by the pistol shooting of 18-year-old Larry Type. Police said the gunman was a black youth. The victim recovered.

Dixie Not Popular Playing of the song "Dixie" has been a significant problem in Southern schools. Whites have stood and cheered for decades when their band struck up the tune. Blacks now take it as a racial affront and often explode when "Dixie" begins.

At Chattanooga's Brainerd High School, blacks and whites had a fuss over "Dixie" and the team nickname, "Rebels." This case was repeated hundreds of times.

Atlanta's prep teams hire from 25 to 30 off-duty policemen to patrol at football games. They are stationed at all gates and on both sides of the field with eyes peeled for violence. "We feel these officers can handle any situation that arises," said R.A. Wainwright, assistant director of athletics for the system.

Daylight Games Prep outfits in Greater Chicago must play home games during the daylight hours. The public school system invoked the rule about 10 years ago because of vandalism, not only inside gymnasiums at basketball games but in the neighborhood streets. Officials said little of the trouble came as a result of racial strife.

It's much the same in Milwaukee.

Opening lead—king of spades. The Roman Blackwood convention is more complicated than the standard Blackwood convention, but there are hands where the more efficient Roman version attains a higher degree of accuracy.

Both methods originate the inquiry for the number of aces held by responder with a four notrump bid. In standard Blackwood, a response of five clubs shows no aces; five diamonds, one ace; five hearts, two aces; five spades, three aces. (The response of five clubs is also used to denote all four aces.)

In Roman Blackwood, a response of five clubs indicates no aces or three of them; five diamonds, one or four aces. (In both cases, the player who initiates Blackwood is expected to know from the previous bidding the number of aces the response actually denotes.)

Five hearts indicates a holding of two like aces, that is, both black, both red, both minor, or both major. Five spades likewise indicates two aces, but they are unlike, namely, spades-diamonds or hearts-clubs.

In all cases where the four notrump bidder has only one ace, he can tell precisely which two aces his partner has when the response is five spades. This knowledge is extremely valuable if the Blackwood initiator has a void in one suit.

For example, take today's hand where South should start thinking seriously of a grand slam after partner responds to the forcing two bid with three clubs. South invokes Roman Blackwood after North bids three hearts, planning to undertake a grand slam if North shows either three aces or the right two aces.

When North responds five spades, showing two unlike aces, which can be only the heart-club aces, South can confidently bid the grand slam in hearts. In regular Blackwood, North would respond five hearts, announcing two aces, but South would have to guess whether they were the right two aces.

Ann Landers

Wife Needs Vacation Not Unwanted Guests

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married for ten years to a wonderful man. We have three children, a nice home and much to be grateful for.

Clyde has a large family. His relatives often call on Thursday to say they will be here Friday. As many as 11 have piled in on us at once. Three weeks ago Clyde's sister and her husband arranged with friends to meet at our home for a weekend. We did not know the couple. They were lovely but their three children were a handful. That same weekend Clyde's cousins came from California for a two-week stay.

Clyde says relatives are not company. He loves to have people around and doesn't mind running a free hotel and restaurant. But I am the one who must do the work, and it is killing me. I am exhausted, dangerously underweight and hooked on tranquilizers. What do you suggest? — Full Time Slave

Dear Slave: So relatives aren't company? Who does Clyde consider company? Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip? Enlist your doctor's support. Ask him to inform your husband that you're overworked and that you need a vacation, not guests.

Dear Ann Landers: My brother is a pilot for a well known commercial airline. Recently he was promoted to captain. We are all proud of him. He is very modest about the promotion but his wife has let it go to her head so much an extent that she is becoming obnoxious.

Her new writing paper is engraved, "Captain and Mrs. . . ." The mailbox is being repainted. When he makes restaurant reservations his wife insists that he say "Captain and Mrs. . . ." I'm sure people think he is a sea captain or an officer in the U. S. Army.

My husband is the vice president of a business. I wouldn't dream of referring to him socially as the vice president. My sister-in-law is an ardent reader of your column. If you will print my letter and just a word of comment I'm sure it would solve the problem. — No Name Please

Dear No Name: It is not in good taste to use a business title socially. I do hope, however, when your sister-in-law sees this letter in print, it does not create a bigger problem than the one you wrote about.

Dear Ann Landers: Please say something to mothers who slap their children across the face, slam things over their heads and call it "discipline." My daughter-in-law and her 7-year-old son live with me. It breaks my heart the way she cracks the boy in the mouth when he interrupts her. I've seen her box his ears one minute and slap him the next because he didn't obey her. I'm sure the child didn't obey her because he couldn't hear.

My son is in Vietnam. When I write I always say, "Everything is wonderful at home. Don't worry." It's not true, Ann. The child's mother has a terrible temper and she takes out a lot of her anger on the boy. What should I do? — Concerned

Dear Concerned: Suggest to the child's teacher that she advise the mother to take him to a doctor to get his hearing checked. Then tip off the doctor so he can warn your hot-tempered daughter-in-law against beating the youngster on the head. You will then not be labeled an interfering mother-in-law and you will have achieved the desired results.

Christmas can be a problem. What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' new book, "Truth Is Stranger" is available in book stores. It can also be obtained by writing Prentice Hall, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey. Price, $4.95.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MODEL CHAPEL

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—"We're told we have the largest interdenominational campus religious program in the nation," says the Rev. Dr. John H. McCombe, dean of the Syracuse University Chapel. Up to 1,000 gatherings monthly are scheduled there. Students plan the worship services and other events.

"We see the chapel not as a museum for religion but as a laboratory," Dr. McCombe says. "Apparently we are developing a model which can be used by other campuses. They come here to study our chapel activities."

Embezzlement

PONTIAC (AP) — A former Lake Orion official faces arraignment Monday on a charge of embezzlement.

John Reineck, 56, of Pontiac, was named in a warrant issued Thursday night by John Davey, Oakland County assistant prosecutor. The warrant charges embezzlement of some $25,000 in tax funds received by Lake Orion in the years 1968 and 1969.

Davey said the shortage was uncovered by village accountants.

Hurricane Camille Not Best Yuletide Thought

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss. (AP) — There's a big red Christmas wreath with a big red ribbon on the Carpenter's front door. But there isn't any house attached to the door. Hurricane Camille took care of that four months ago.

No, it isn't a joke. Shirley Carpenter propped the front door against the slab of her home demolished by the hurricane at nearby Long Beach and she put a wreath on it. She even had a Christmas card made of the desolate scene.

Wreckage Cleared

The Mississippi Gulf Coast, from Pass Christian to Biloxi, looks pretty much like one of those Pacific islands after U.S. naval batteries had finished it in World War II. Much of the work done since Camille struck in mid-August has only added to the devastation. Big bulldozers have cleared much of the wreckage, leaving vacant lots where ancient homes once proudly stood, as if boasting their antiquity.

The Gulf Coast used to call itself "the Riviera of America." It was a haven for vacationers and those who sought the sun in their retirement years.

It may become that again. But it won't be the same. Scars left on the land will remain for years. Scars on the soul may last forever.

Not Much Christmas

"There isn't going to be much Christmas on the coast," said Horace Spradley of Pass Christian. He operated an automobile agency in the little town before Camille.

Water waist deep washed through his showroom the night of Aug. 17 when Camille—the most intense storm ever to take the North America coastline—roared in from the Gulf of Mexico.

"There's some Christmas decorations around but there's not much feeling for Christmas. There's still so much to be done, so much," the 72-year-old Spradley said.

Before Camille finished her terrifying sweep of the coast and plunged into the heart of America as far north as West Virginia, there were more than 250 dead, hundreds more injured and property damage estimated at more than $1 billion.

218 M.P.H. Winds

The storm, whose winds were clocked at 218 miles per hour, destroyed more than 5,500 homes on the coast and damaged another 13,915 according to American Red Cross figures.

The Red Cross said 29,000 families applied for assistance in rebuilding and, to date, more than $15 million in assistance has been paid.

But figures don't reflect those who threw in the sponge after losing their homes and left the area.

Camille caused major damage to schools all along the stretch of Gulf Coast and schools were three to four weeks late in opening for the fall season. Schools were already overcrowded and the storm made the problem worse.

Portable Classrooms

Portable classrooms were brought in and will be used in some sections throughout the school year.

The insurance hassle still exists. Some insurance companies claim that up to 90 per cent of the claims have been settled. But their figures do not show if the claims are large or small.

The dispute between the insurance companies and the home owners in some cases revolves around which did the damage, wind or water. Wind damage is covered by insurance. That done by flood waters—a tidal wave 25 feet high swamped the area around Pass Christian—is not covered.

Shirley Carpenter's husband, Marvin, is an engineer for North American Aircraft at the NASA rocket testing plant at Nicholas, Miss. The Carpenters' husband, wife and four children—evacuated in late afternoon on Aug. 17 and rode out the storm at the test site control center in a block house with walls a foot thick.

Home Disappears

They returned the next day to their Long Beach home, or rather where their new two-story home had been. Six homes were swept away on their street, either by the spinning tornadoes which accompanied Camille or by the wall of water that followed it.

The Carpenters now live at their home site in a trailer provided by the Housing and Urban Development office for $45 a month. They'll be able to live in it for one year. Before they got the trailer, they lived in a tent. "The trailer is very small, a two-bedroom converted into three," Mrs. Carpenter said. "But we don't have a lot to cram into it."

Belongings Scattered

She said she and her neighbors still find belongings in the nearby woods and amid debris. They've even found new landmarks to aid directions. When someone asked the way to a spot, she said: "Just go down past three chairs and turn left at Frances' bathtub."

Mrs. Carpenter's family was among the lucky ones. Her insurance company settled for 100 per cent of loss. It isn't that way everywhere. Many of those who lost their homes contend the insurance companies are offering settlements starting at 35 per cent of the insured value.

But Mrs. Carpenter said it isn't likely they'll build again. "We really love this coast but I don't think we'll try again," she said. "We'll probably look for a rental."

Reminders Everywhere

Camille's reminders are everywhere along the 25-mile stretch the storm hammered, but Christmas shopping is good in Gulfport and Biloxi. Most merchants ordered lightly for Christmas after the storm struck and their inventories came up short for the unexpected heavy buying.

There are indications of efforts to rebuild. Signs of "we'll open soon" are everywhere and only last week, a major development totaling $100 million was announced for Bay St. Louis, just across the bridge from Pass Christian.

But the wound is too open for much Christmas. There are few halls to deck with holly.

Jobless In State Higher Than 1968

LANSING (AP) — The State Employment Security Commission reports Michigan's level of unemployment in November was substantially up over the same month a year ago.

William Ford, commission director, said the present jobless rate of 3.5 per cent still is only slightly above the 3.4 per cent of November, 1968.

"Michigan nonfarm employment rose to 3.42 million, adding 16,800 between mid-October and mid-November," Ford said. "Manufacturing industries experienced a slight decline, durable goods remained fairly stable and non-durable industries fell 1,300," he reported.

School Cancels Breakfast Plan

The breakfast program at the Central School has been cancelled due to lack of participation. Business Manager Robert Kanerva said this week that only one student had indicated an interest in the program.

The program would have offered a hot breakfast to students each morning, between 7:30 and 8, at ten cents per meal or 50 cents per week.

The morning program was conducted on an experimental basis last spring, but only a few students participated at that time.

School officials also announced that the Central School main gym and the Lincoln School gym will be sanded and sealed over the Christmas holidays. Work was scheduled to begin Friday.

Because of the refurbishment work, the reserve and varsity basketball teams will be using the old gym at Central and it will not be available for general community recreation such as roller skating and grade school basketball.

Some work is planned by the Area Schools workmen in the high school office and it will be closed for one day only, Dec. 26.

Six Intramural Cage Units Start Season Practice

Six intramural basketball teams have begun practicing at the Manistique High School under the direction of Glenn Eignall. The teams are preparing for games scheduled to be played in January.

About 60 boys are attending practice sessions with four junior-senior and two freshmen-sophomore squads organized. Practices are held in the old gym Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The teams have issued a challenge to the Facility All-Stars asking for a contest at the end of the season. No reply has yet been received from the All-Stars.

Briefly Told

Public Safety officers ticketed David J. Fowler, 23, Ottawa, Ont., Canada, after his automobile went out of control, crossed the centerline and collided head-on with a car driven by Edward Pello, 23, Goshen, Conn. The mishap occurred Thursday at 10:40 a.m. on U.S. 2 east near the entrance to the Trailer Park. Fowler was cited for failure to have vehicle under control. Chief of Police Roy Anderson took Pello and a passenger, Gregory McDonnell, 22, Marquette, to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where the two received emergency treatment for facial cuts. Both Pello and McDonnell are students at Northern Michigan University, officers said. Both vehicles sustained considerable damage and were removed by wrecker. Road conditions were bad at the time of the mishap.

State police ticketed Chester M. Anderson, Iron River, for speeding on Thursday.

County Audit Report Gets Favorable Rating

A recent audit of county accounts and bookkeeping practices brought a favorable report and a few recommended procedures from the State Department of the Treasury. The audit covered activity during the 1968 calendar year — Jan. 1, 1968 to Dec. 31, 1968.

In a report to the County Board of Commissioners (supervisors), State Treasurer Allison Green commended the county on its "satisfactory balance" of over $25,000 in the County General Funds. These monies include general, social welfare and child care funds derived primarily from property tax levies, state-shared revenues and state aid grants.

Appointment

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has appointed Robert Dearth of Bloomfield Hills to his citizens committee on consumer affairs. Dearth, a senior vice president of a Detroit advertising firm, will succeed Dr. Renis Likert of Ann Arbor, resigned, for a term expiring Dec. 31, 1970.

to the board for study and review "is in accordance with our recommended procedures for proper county budgeting and we commend the board for its adherence to such procedures," Green said.

In other areas, the report noted:

- Salaries paid county officers are in accordance with rates established by the board;
- Deposits made with the county treasurer of criminal case fines, costs and bond forfeitures collected by the Justice of the Peace (an office abolished in January of 1969) were properly accounted for;
- County officers' surety bonds complied with statutory regulations;
- Records and accounts of the following departments were deemed in proper order: Treasurer, Clerk and Register of Deeds, Probate Court, Abstractor, Tax, Friend of the Court and Social Services.

Recommended by the report were the following practices:

- Completion of tax roll warrants by supervisors from the townships of Hiawatha, Doyle and Mueller;
- That surety bonds be purchased for the Friend of the Court, the business manager at the Medical Care Facility and any other county employee who handles county funds;
- That an installment payment contract be paid in full since the board of commissioners does not have the authority to purchase equipment on an installment basis. This is in reference to the purchase of a new $12,000 addressograph system for the tax department okayed by the 1968 board;
- That the County Road Commission renew snowplowing contracts each year;
- That the hospital transfer outstanding checks, over two years old, to their operating fund and that escheatable items be transferred to the trust and agency escheatable fund for subsequent reporting and payment to the State Board of Escheats.

- That minor posting practices be corrected in the District Health Office and that bank reconciliations be retained after bank statements are reconciled;
- That the Sheriff's office fully complete pertinent information on inmate cards; inaugurate a receipts register; begin remitting fees to the county treasurer for deposit in the general fund; and that an exact mileage reimbursement system be employed rather than a fixed monthly reimbursement.

All recommendations have been relayed to department heads who have indicated they will comply with the suggested procedures.

Liberty Island Stay Peaceful For Ranger

NEW YORK (AP) — His fellow forest rangers may consider it a hardship assignment but Pingree Crawford liked his New York stay just fine. For one thing, he had a six-room house for $35 a month on the island with the Statue of Liberty.

For more than two years, Crawford, 33, his wife, Judy, and their two children lived in the two-story brick house while he was assigned as second in command on Liberty Island for the National Park Service.

It was, said Crawford, country living with all the bright lights, bustle and convenience of the city only a short boat ride away. Noise, pollution and crime were something in the newspapers or on television, he said.

"In the 2½ years we lived here, we never even locked our door," Crawford said Thursday as moving men loaded his household furnishings in a van for the trip to Macon, Ga., and his next assignment.

Enjoying once more the view of the Manhattan skyline across Upper New York Bay, Crawford chuckled, "Even the television reception on this island is beautiful."

Continuing to enumerate the merits of the island, Crawford asked, "Where else in New York can you get a 12-acre backyard?"

Crawford said most rangers balk at the prospect of assignment to the island. "They want to stay out in the wilds, away from people. This assignment is considered a hardship assignment. At Christmas time they send me condolence cards," he said.

"We really used the city," he said. "We used to go to the theater, the ballet, the opera. We went sightseeing."

And always when they returned home there was the Statue of Liberty. Crawford watched as a group of children stepped off a ferry and walked to inspect the national shrine.

Reflecting for a moment he explained how the statue too had been part of their lives. "You listen to what people say and you can't help but be moved," he said. "Particularly, when you see foreigners standing near the Statue of Liberty and looking at it and weeping."

ABC Polls Favor Vice President

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's charge that television news reporting is biased has the support of 52 per cent in a national poll taken for ABC. The survey found 33 per cent disagree.

However, the poll, which was released Thursday night on the ABC Evening News, reported that the right of television newsmen to comment immediately after a presidential speech was supported by a ratio of 2½ to 1.

Asked if they agree with Agnew that newspapers are biased, the survey said 36 per cent of those interviewed agreed, 34 per cent disagreed and 30 per cent didn't know or had no opinion.

Freedom of the press for all media was endorsed by the majority of the 559 adults in 12 cities who were interviewed.

After Agnew's criticism of the networks for their news analysis following President Nixon's Nov. 3 Vietnam speech, ABC retained Lieberman Research, Inc., of New York to conduct the poll.

Low Bidder

LANSING (AP) — The State Aeronautics Commission reports Don S. Parr & Sons, Inc., of Manistee, submitted the low bid of $59,941 for construction of a 500-foot runway extension, paving of some 24,000 square feet for auto parking and other improvements at the Manistee County - Blacker Airport.

New Tax Form Change Noted

DETROIT — Each of the 18 million taxpayers in the United States who filed the now discontinued card 1040A from last year, have received a postcard explaining the change to the new consolidated 1040 form, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

This year all taxpayers will receive a larger, complete tax package that includes the one-page basic 1040 and additional pages or schedules, which may or may not be used according to the taxpayer's needs.

Past 1040A-users will find that except for a few lines, the new 1040 asks for the same information as the old card form and that they probably will not need to fill out more than one sheet of paper to make out their returns, the card says.

In the past, taxpayers who used the 1040A could not take advantage of certain tax credits or exclusions and could not itemize their deductions. A principal reason for making the change to the new form is to enable taxpayers to take full advantage of the tax benefits the law provides, the postcard says.

Most taxpayers should receive their individual tax forms and instructions by mail the first week of January.

Make Believe Reindeer Keep Westerner Hopping

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP) — Owning a herd of 350 make believe reindeer is a gas at Christmas time.

You gild their antlers and form them into squadrons of eight. In each squadron you daub one's nose red and dub him Rudolph.

Then you watch the kiddies' eyes light up as the animals prance around at shopping centers, with Santa ho-ho-hoing nearby.

But for the rest of the year, forget it, says Fritz Burns, a Los Angeles real estate man. All the deer do is eat and multiply.

The Burns herd grew from 26 milk white European fallow deer which he bought from the estate of the late publisher William Randolph Hearst in 1949.

Burns, now 70, installed the animals at his 400-acre ranch. Burns has eight eight-deer teams on almost constant display in Southern California during the Christmas season. In the past, some have traveled as far as Vineland, N.J., and the Philippines.

Imelda Marcos, wife of Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos, wrote Burns last summer that children there believe in Santa Claus but think his reindeer are a myth.

Burns decorated a batch of eight and, after a sendoff from Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty on the steps of City Hall, had them flown to the islands as a gift to Filipino children from the city of Los Angeles.

Another batch went to the Nagoya Zoo in Japan, and eight were shipped to a home for mentally retarded children in New Jersey.

Burns still feels somewhat over-deer and hopes to reduce his holding to 150 through further gifts to zoos and children's homes.

In Quest Of Peace

Three wise and good men followed a star one night in search of truth, in search of peace. Their quest led them to a town called Bethlehem where lay an infant Babe. Then and there, new hope for mankind was born.

Two centuries later, we are still on a desperate quest for peace. But as yet our path is not as easy as those who followed the light of a star, nor is it likely that we will find our answer in historic Bethlehem. But the message of that place is still as clear, still as strong, if only we will heed the words.

Seek Him, and you shall find Him . . . in quiet contemplation, in prayer, in church He waits to welcome you.

Go to church this Sunday. Pray not only for your own needs, but for all the world! Pray for peace! Goodwill to all men!

Tigers Retain Unbeaten Mark

Powers, Felch and Champion scored Skyline Conference wins Friday night while another member, Carney, went outside the league to post a cage win.

The Powers-Spalding Tigers made it six in a row as they fought off a determined Republic crew on the Hawks' home court, winning 69-63.

Once again it was high-scoring Dick Smith who led the way for the Tigers, as he meshed 13 from the field and three from the charity stripe for 29 points, just slightly below his season average.

Grabbing a 21-12 lead in the opening frame, Powers saw Republic take its only lead of the game in the second period and settle for a 36-36 deadlock at halftime.

By The Associated Press
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mean Joe Greene, the National Football League's Defensive Rookie of the Year, doesn't like to think of himself as a first-year man.

"I haven't thought much about being the best rookie," said the 6-foot-4, 270-pound Pittsburgh Steeler tackle. "I just want to be one of the better tackles in pro football."

But Greene said he was not about to argue with a panel of Associated Press sports writers and sportscasters who overwhelmingly voted him the top rookie defensive player in the NFL.

The former North Texas State star was the first draft choice of the lowly Steelers and has been one of the few bright spots in an otherwise dismal season.

The side-burned Texan doesn't regret being drafted by Pittsburgh, however.

"I'm not displeased," he said. "We're an upcoming team. We'll do a lot better next year."

"I wouldn't want to go with a championship team," Greene explained. "It's better on a building team—you can be a part of the growing. On a championship team you're just another piece of wood on the fire."

The Steelers aren't displeased they chose Mean Joe either.

"Joe had an outstanding year and played great football for us," said Coach Chuck Noll. "I'm really happy he was recognized."

Huskies Blanked In Puck Tourney

DETROIT (AP)—Giles Gagnon scored at 3:44 in the final period to break a tie and give Michigan State a 2-1 win over Princeton in the first round of the Great Lakes Invitational Hockey Tournament Friday night.

In the first game, Dick Umile and John Gray each made two goals as New Hampshire blanked Michigan Tech, 7-0.

The victories set up a championship clash between Michigan State and New Hampshire Saturday.

Big Bay Upends Perkins; Takes Over League Lead

After going through a long layoff because of the teacher strike at Big Bay de Noc High School, it didn't take long for the Big Bay Black Bears to rise to power in the Central League standings.

Big Bay opened its season for the second time Tuesday night with a victory over previously unbeaten Rapid River and last night they really poured the coals to Perkins, giving the Yellowjackets their first loss in conference play by a 95-53 margin.

Bill Hartman found the range again and scored from all over the court to pick up 44 points on 20 field goals and four free throws. Hartman's 44-point performance was the highest single game point total run up by a player in the Escanaba area this season. Also scoring in double figures for the Black Bears was Dave Hardwick with 16 points.

After a close first period, Felch rammed home 27 points in the second stanza then held on to cop a 77-72 conference win, the second against five losses. Led by Bill Edberg with 29 points and Stewart Sundholm with 27, Felch came through.

It took accuracy from the free throw line, however, to cop the cage victory. Hitting 23 of 36 while Hermansville could hit only 12 of 25, proved essential as the Redskins outscored the Foresters 30-27 from the field.

Hermansville won the preliminary game by a 52-19 count.

Kaline Inks Pact; Gets Special Day

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers picked Al Kaline's 35th birthday Friday to announce they are breaking a long-standing tradition to honor the slugging rightfielder with a special day during the 1970 baseball season.

Kaline signed his 18th Tiger contract Friday and at ceremonies marking the signing, General Manager Jim Campbell announced that Sunday, Aug. 2, will be Al Kaline Day at Tiger Stadium. It is the first time a player has been given a special day since Harry Heilmann was honored in 1948.

No terms of Kaline's new contract were announced but Campbell said he will continue as the highest-paid player on the team.

In other games involving Central League teams, Bark River was nipped by Carney 57-55 and Rapid River was bombed by Class C Norway by an 89-62 score.

Bark River took a 15-9 lead over unbeaten Carney in the first quarter, then fell behind by three points at halftime and went back out in front by four going into the fourth period.

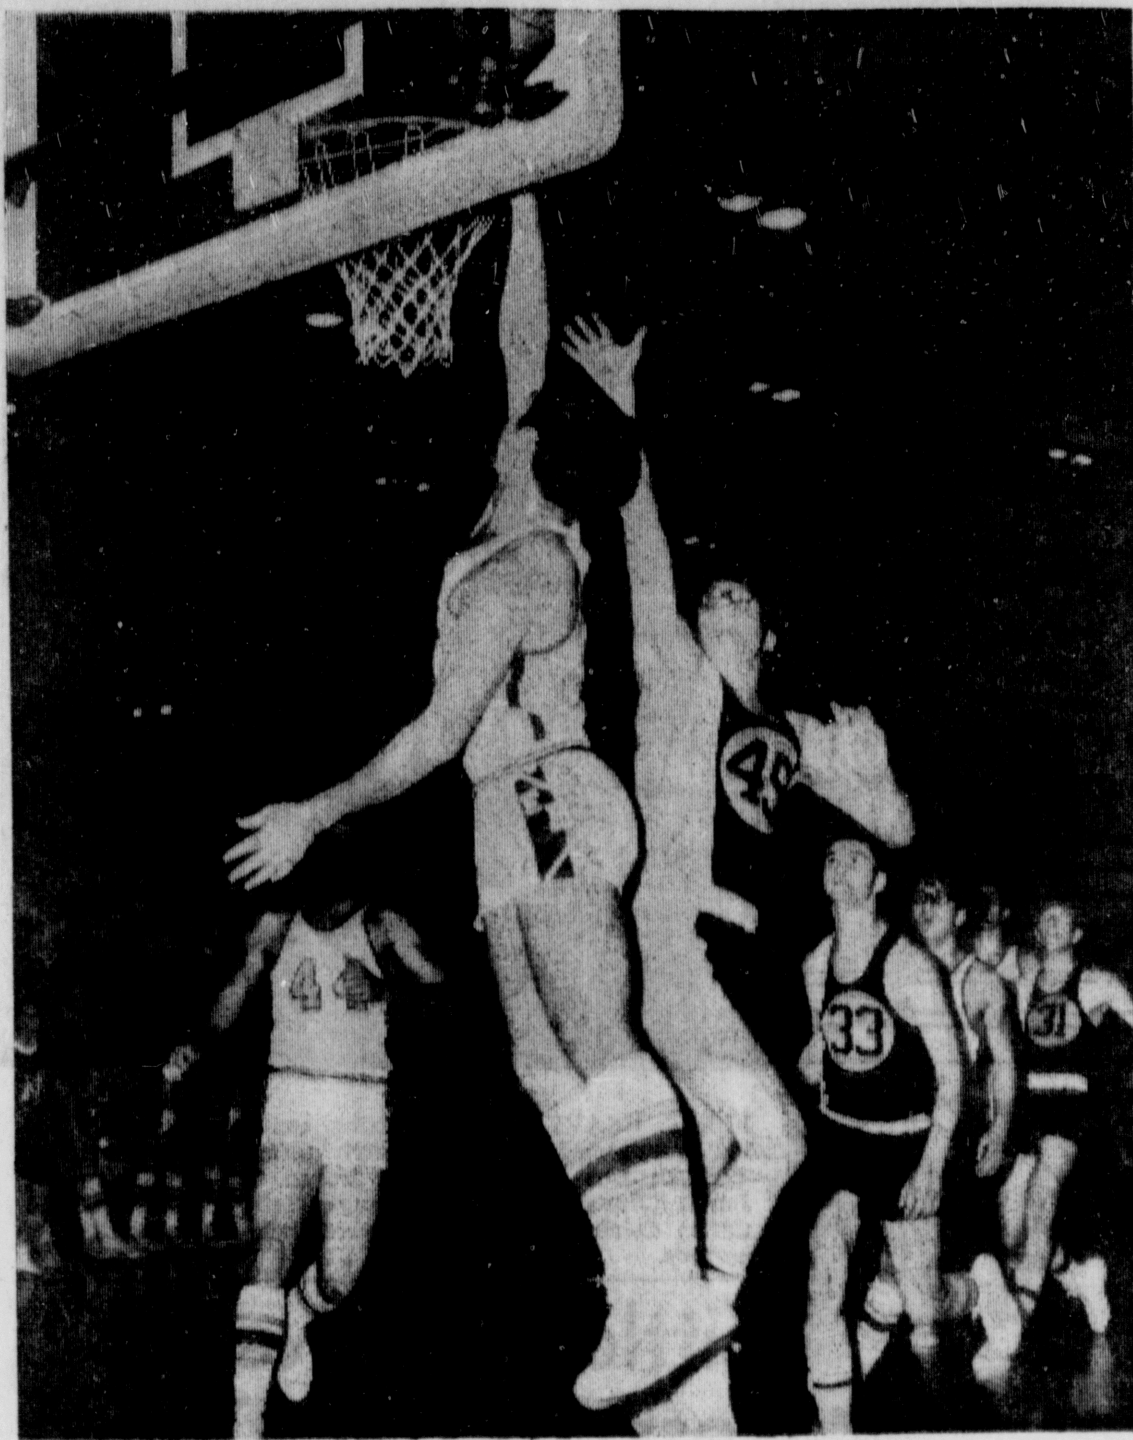

Carney won the game in the final minute on two free throws by Ed Benson and on one by John Perras.

Coach John Butrymowicz reported that his players turned in an outstanding game against the Wolves and were in good shape until Dan Vesser was injured in the third quarter.

Alex Jorasz paced the Bark River attack with 19 points and Vesser helped out with 10 before leaving the game. John Perras of Carney topped all scorers in the game with 27 points and Benson chipped in with 19. Jorasz also had 18 rebounds to give the Broncos a 40-36 edge over the taller Wolves in that department.

Rapid River fell behind by a 28-13 margin in the first quarter of its game with Norway and was never able to get back into contention. At one point in the first period, the Rockets trailed by a 17-0 score before scoring.

Terry Johnson led Norway in the scoring column with 30

SCORING PLAY — Doug Schupp (45) of Iron Mountain made a vain attempt to block a layup by Dan Young of the Holy Name Crusaders, but failed. Young scored one of his seven field goals on this play. Coming in to help with the rebounding is Joe Harvey (44) of Holy Name, while a group of Iron Mountain players, led by Don Verette (33) awaits further action in the game which Holy Name won handily Friday night, 70-41. # Maroons Nip Eskymos By Two-Point Margin

By MIKE UTT

MENOMINEE—Fans attending the Great Northern Conference clash between the Escanaba Maroons and Menominee Maroons Friday night got just what they came for — plenty of excitement.

After trailing by as many as 12 points in the third period, the Eskymos rallied to narrow the gap to one point in the fourth quarter before dropping a 63-61 decision to the Maroons in the final minute of the game.

The loss dropped the Eskymos into third place in the conference standings with a 1-1 record. Holy Name leads the conference with a 1-0 mark and Menominee is in second at 2-1.

The two teams exchanged the lead four times in the first quarter before Menominee went ahead in the final two minutes of the period to take a 17-11 lead at the buzzer. Big plays in the Maroon push were a free throw and field goal by Jeff Pecotte with two minutes left and a three-point play by Gary Enstrom with one minute remaining.

Most of the second quarter was played at the free throw line and neither team scored very well from there. Menominee moved ahead by as many as 11 points early in the quarter, but the Eskymos came back to stay in the game at 33-27 at halftime. Escanaba was three for ten from the gift stripe in the first half.

Dan Jacques got the Maroons rolling in the third period, scoring 11 of the Maroons' 13 points in the early moments. Escanaba came rolling right back after a three-point play by Tom Kangas and then three more field goals by Kangas and a pair by Bob Gauthier to come within one point at the quarter break, 50-49. Both teams scored well in the third period, Escanaba hitting 10 of 17 attempts and Menominee eight of 14.

Jacques put the Maroons back out in front by four points in the early minutes of the fourth quarter with a field goal and a three-point play, and once again Escanaba answered the challenge and moved to within two points with 3:02 left on the clock.

The final three minutes of the game was played almost entirely at the free throw line, except for a field goal by Jacques at the 1:18 mark and another by Escanaba's Gene Timmer with 12 seconds left. Seven fouls were called in the final 50 seconds and 11 free throws were shot.

With 33 seconds left, the Eskymos cut the gap back to two points, 61-59, on a free throw by Kangas, but the Maroons went back ahead by three on a free throw by Bruce VanEyk.

Escanaba then got back within one point on Timmer's field goal before VanEyk iced the game with another free throw with six seconds left on the clock.

Kangas paced the Eskymo attack with 23 points and Gauthier was the only other player to hit in double figures with 14. Jacques topped all scorers in the game with 28 points for the Maroons and he got help from Jeff Pecotte with 18 and Enstrom with 10.

Escanaba had 33 rebounds in the game with Kangas leading the way in this department with 18. From the field, the Eskymos made 27 of 66 attempts while Menominee was 23 of 50. The point difference in the game came at the free throw line, where Escanaba was 7 of 19 and Menominee was 17 of 33.

Crusader Five Wins League Clash 70-41

By BILL CADEAU

The Holy Name Crusaders sent the Mountaineers heading "for the hills" Friday night as they spanked the invaders from Iron Mountain, 70-41, in a Great Northern Conference clash on the Holy Name floor.

The victory gave the Crusaders the only unbeaten mark in the Great Northern Conference as Escanaba suffered a 63-61 loss to Menominee. Kingsford played a non-conference foe and West Iron County was idle last night.

Doug Schupp took the opening tipoff and raced in to score for Iron Mountain before Dan Young knotted the count at 20, all shortly afterward. Consecutive baskets by Dan Verette and Bob Hosking gave the Mountaineers a 6-2 bulge and it began to look like a long night for Coach Gordy LeDuc's Crusaders.

Such was not the case, however, as 6-3 Steve Kleiman sandwiched a basket between two of Young's free throws and Holy Name tied the score again to 38-20. Young came out with three fouls but LeDuc went to his bench and found Joe Joran a capable replacement.

To say that the Mountaineers were at a freezing point in the second half would be the understatement of the year. The team shot 15 per cent, hitting six of 39 shots in the last eighteen minutes while Holy Name, with substitutes playing a good portion, managed 13 of 43.

For the game, Iron Mountain hit 15 of 79 for a mediocre 19 per cent from the floor. Holy Name fired in a sizzling 50 per cent in the opening period, hitting 10 of 20 and even with the reserves playing a good portion of the second half, still managed nearly 35 per cent of their shots, hitting 29 of 87.

The play of Joran, Tom Ness and Dave Maskart, all non-starters, must have been pleasing to LeDuc, former Bishop Baraga High cage mentor who led the Royals to the State Class D championship this spring. Harvey was again the top rebounder for the night, hauling in 22 off both boards. Kleiman had 11 rebounds.

Young, Steve Kleiman and McGinn all hit in double figures for Holy Name as they won their fourth game in five outings in a span of two weeks. The only loss was a one-point-er to Munising a week ago. Hosking was the lone Mountaineer to hit better than seven, as he fired in 14 before fouling out.

The Crusaders are now idle until Jan. 9 when the LeDuc brothers, Gordy and Roger, face each other. Roger coaches the Kingsford Flivvers, the Crusaders' next foe.

Fourth Quarter Rally Gives Braves Victory

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds managed to throw quite a scare in the Gladstone Braves in their Great Lakes Conference contest last night before the Braves finally managed to record a 63-61 victory.

"I guess we just did less things wrong in the second half," said Jack Ingalls, the Gladstone coach, about his team's victory.

The Braves fell behind in the first quarter by a 13-7 margin and couldn't get the lid off the basket through the first half. They trailed by a 33-24 margin at halftime before starting their comeback.

Gladstone outscored the Emeralds 17-13 in the third period to cut the gap to five points and took advantage of some Manistique mistakes in the fourth period to score the victory.

Cliff Young led the Braves in the scoring department with 20 points, while Lynn Apelgren and Don Harris also hit in double figures for the Braves with 15 and 13 points respectively.

Dave Mickelson paced the Emeralds with 16 points, while Kendall Neeson chipped in with 13 and Jerry Sample 10.

The victory kept the Braves in the running for the Great Lakes Conference crown with a 3-0 record and the loss dropped the Emeralds to a 1-3 mark in conference play.

The Braves hit only 36 per cent from the field in the game and really had a tough time in the first half, where they hit on only 10 of 44 shots from the field. From the free throw line, the Braves could only net 11 of 28 attempts.

Manistique won the preliminary game by scoring a 66-49 victory over the Gladstone JVs.

'Little Guy' Needs Less To Get 'Drunk'

CHICAGO (AP) — A 180-pound man might drink five bottles of beer before he gets drunk, but three bottles would do it to a 120-pounder.

The heavier man might drink five shots of whiskey before falling "under the influence," but four would do for the little one.

And all holiday drinkers should remember that even the "average" drink has a mind-boggling effect for an hour after it is consumed.

These are among the guidelines for drinkers set forth by the American Medical Association and the National Safety Council in a new campaign to teach drinkers how long the effect of a drink lasts and what it does to their driving ability.

They believe the campaign is a more realistic approach toward drunken driving. More than 25,000 of the 55,200 automobile fatalities in 1968 involved alcohol consumption, and the organizations concede that past campaigns urging drivers not to drink at all have had little effect.

The council and the AMA have prepared charts relating drinks and body size to the degree of intoxication.

Most states consider a person with a 0.15 per cent concentration of alcohol in the blood to be "under the influence." But some states, federal agencies, the AMA, and the Safety Council recommend that a person with a 0.10 per cent alcohol concentration in his blood be presumed "under the influence."

Among popular alcoholic drinks, beer contains the lowest percentage of alcohol while whiskey and rum have the highest, but—because of the size of the drink—cocktails such as martinis and manhattans are the most intoxicating.

A 120-pound drinker reaches the 0.10 per cent concentration level with slightly more than three bottles of beer. The 180-pound drinker would have to consume five bottles to reach that limit.

The 120-pound whiskey drinker would reach the 0.10 per cent level with less than four one-ounce shots. The 180-pound drinker could have five.

One and a half martinis or manhattans would bring the 120-pound drinker to the 0.10 limit. Just over two would bring the 180-pounder to that level.

If a driver doesn't follow the ideal course of total abstinence, the two groups suggest:

—Drink in a way that will keep you from being under the influence when driving. "This means that most individuals should not drink more than one bottle of beer or one highball an hour."

—Decide in advance the maximum you will drink—and stick to it.

—The host should encourage guests who drink to do so at the suggested leisurely rate.

Hanna Boosts Pellet Prices

The Hanna Mining Co., Cleveland, today announced a 5.5 per cent increase in the price of iron ore pellets, effective Jan. 1.

This will bring the price to 26.6 cents per gross ton iron unit, delivered rail of vessel, lower lake ports. The present price is 25.2 cents per iron unit.

"This revision is long overdue," said James N. Purse, Hanna executive vice president. "Over the past eight years our hourly employment costs have risen approximately 40 per cent and supply costs have gone up nearly 30 per cent. But there has been no change whatsoever in the price of pellets."

The new pellet price will, for example, in the case of Minnesota pellets, include an increase in lake vessel rates of 15 cents to $2.05 per ton and the recent six per cent rail rate increase authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Purse said also that the Lake Erie price of Hanna Lake Superior District natural ores will be increased by 25 cents per ton, offsetting only the increased transportation costs.

Hanna, one of the nation's largest independent producers of ore, this year will sell about six million

The senator said he will write to Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, to see whether he agrees with the Michigan director's statement.

Two Foresters
On Snowmobile
Drown In Lake

WELLSTON (AP) — Two U.S. forest rangers drowned Thursday when their snowmobile plunged through the ice of Lake Timmerman, about three miles southwest of Wellston.

The victims were identified as Paul Nelson, 21, and Carl Nichols, 23, both of Cadillac and both employees of the U. S. Forest Service. Their supervisor launched a search for the men after they failed to return from a routine patrol.

The supervisor followed the tracks of the snowmobile to Lake Timmerman. State Police recovered the bodies early today in about 20 feet of water.

Earlier Thursday, a Mount Pleasant man drowned in Houghton Lake when the weight of his snowmobile broke through the ice. He was Gene Ettinger.

Police said Ettinger's companion escaped by climbing off the rear of the sinking machine. Last weekend, authorities said, four snowmobilers plunged through the ice of Houghton Lake, but all drivers and passengers escaped without injury.

Employees Getting
More Protection
Under New Law

LANSING (AP) — Barry Brown, director of the State Labor Department, reports Michigan employees will be protected by a new state law enacted by the 1969 legislative session covering garnishment of wages.

Brown said he has received a number of queries about the new law. It will not become effective until 90 days after adjournment of the session, he noted, approximately next April.

He said the act will affect all employers in the state, including state agencies.

The new Michigan law says a garnishment action "shall not be used as the sole cause of discharge."

A new federal law to become effective in July, 1970, specified an employee cannot be fired because his wages have been garnished one time.

The law will be administered by the courts and not the Labor Department.

A spokesman for the department said there probably will have to be court tests to determine how the new Michigan law will be interpreted. There is no mention in the Michigan law of how one or more garnishments will affect possible dismissal.

U-M Cutting Back
ROTC Program

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan regents moved to strip the school's Reserve Officer Training Corps programs of their academic standing Friday.

The move, which had been expected, followed the recommendation of the school's top faculty body, the University Senate.

Under the regents' action, Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC would become "programs" rather than academic departments. The regents also asked the Defense Department to assume $250,000 in expenses previously paid by the university. This includes $200,000 for rental of North Hall, home of the ROTC.

The changes in the program must be negotiated with the Defense Department, before going into effect.

The regents emphasized that they are not in any sense abolishing ROTC but are placing it on the same basis as a number of other university programs.

Under the new plan of operation, ROTC instructors would not receive academic titles unless they also hold appointments from a university school or college.

Cross Country
Snowmobiling
Plans Started

LANSING (AP)—The Department of Natural Resources reports as soon as snow conditions permit it will open three new experimental areas to cross country snowmobiling in Southern Michigan.

The areas will cover 136 acres at Dodge No. 4 State Park, 160 acres at Waterloo Recreation Area and 320 acres at Proud Lake Recreation Area.

The department said in order to protect the landscape, trail tracks will not be open until there are at least three inches of snow on the ground. The area will be closed to all wheeled vehicles.

Snowmobilers are urged to contact the three areas before they leave home to find out if snow conditions are suitable.

Vehicle entrance permits will be required at Dodge. Snowmobilers will ride free at the Waterloo and Proud Lake Recreation Areas.

Also when snow conditions permit, 18 new permanent snowmobile trails will be opened. They will wind through some 153 miles in state parks and recreation areas.

Upper Peninsula trails are located at Porcupine Mountains State Park and Tahquamenon Falls State Park.

Trails are available in the Northern Lower Peninsula at Hartwick Pines, North Higgins Lake, Ludington and Wilderness State Parks and the Rifle River Recreation Area.

Permanent snowmobile trails are located in Southern Michigan at Bald Mountain, Highland, Holly, Ionia, Pinckney and Yankee Springs Recreation Areas and at Hoffmaster, Muskegon, Port Crescent, Sleepy Hollow and Van Buren State Parks.

Maps of the trails are available for the asking from the department's parks division in Lansing.

Training Plan

LANSING (AP) — The U. S. Labor Department reports M-R Products, Inc., of Troy will hire and train 14 disadvantaged persons as machine operators for full employment under the job opportunities program. The department will finance the program with a grant of $27,104.

Chopper Aids Forest Service

By LARRY HAACK
Fire Staffman

A rolling chopper was recently put into use on the Hiawatha National Forest to reduce the large accumulation of pine slash. Nearly 1,000 acres of Jack Pine is harvested each year on the Hiawatha. There are several advantages of the chopper over the former method of control burning.

While burning is effective in removing the slash and in making it possible to plant a new forest, it also has several disadvantages. Weather is a very critical factor in control burning. A day must be chosen which will insure a burn of the right intensity without doing damage beyond tolerable limits. If the fire is too hot, damage to the soil can be great.

It is possible to destroy an accumulation of humus which has taken nature a generation or more to build. Large volumes of smoke are generated and pass into the atmosphere contributing to the growing problem of air pollution.

The rolling chopper cuts the tops and limbs of trees into pieces about a foot and one half in length and much of it is ground into the soil to decay and improve fertility. Treatment of slash with the rolling chopper greatly reduces the fire hazard, the soil is improved, and the site is prepared for planting or seeding the next forest crop.

Advantages
The chopper has many advantages and uses. It can also be used to improve wildlife habitat and maintain firebreaks and access-ways. However, like all mechanical equipment, it has its limitations.

On very steep terrain or in swampy areas its use may be impossible. Prescribed or control burning has not yet been discarded as a land management practice since there are places where this practice may be necessary to achieve desired results. Some examples would be to improve certain types of wildlife habitat and also to dispose of heavy slash accumulations where topography will not permit mechanical equipment.

Two hundred and twenty acres have been treated with the rolling chopper this fall on the Hiawatha National Forest. The project is located on the Wolf Lake Road about two miles east of Camp 7 Lake in the Manistique Ranger District. The success of this operation will probably lead to the purchase of another machine for the Sault Ste. Marie District. It will be used in the Jack Pine areas near Raco.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

THE FOREST SERVICE'S rolling chopper at work improving wildlife habitat and maintaining firebreaks and accessways. The chopper cuts the tops and limbs of trees into pieces about a foot and a half long and grinds most of the cuttings into the soil where it decays and fertilizes.

Now At Participating Mobil Dealers

All I did was ask for a tankful of Mobil Detergent Gasoline.

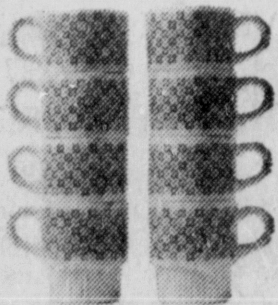

The next thing I knew, I had this beautiful ironstone coffee mug in my hand.

My Mobil Dealer said I got one free with $5 worth of gas. (I could have bought one for 19c with a $3 purchase.)

At this rate, think how fast I can get the whole set of 8 (he said there were 8), and maybe even start on another set.

Not to mention how much cleaner my engine will be.
